However, it may delegate to senior management the responsibility of the day-to-day activities in fulfilling the Board's responsibility provided those matters do not exceed the Materiality Threshold as defined below.

Directors are encouraged to request information from senior executives where they consider such information necessary to make informed decisions. The Board must convene regular meetings with such frequency as is sufficient to appropriately discharge its responsibilities. It is usual practice for the Board to meet once a quarter.

5 Division of Responsibilities:

The division of responsibilities between the Chairman, the CEO, Directors and Senior Management are set out below.

5.1 Responsibilities of the Chairman

The role of the Chairman is to manage the Board, subject to the matters reserved for the Board and the matters assigned to the Board Committees and also to assist the Board in carrying out its role. The Chairman is responsible for leadership of the Board, for the efficient organisation and conduct of the Board's function and for the briefing of all directors in relation to issues arising at Board meetings.

The Chairman is also responsible for arranging Board performance evaluation. The Chairman should facilitate the effective contribution of all directors and promote constructive and respectful relations between directors and between board and senior management.

5.2 Responsibilities of the CEO

The CEO is responsible for running the affairs of the Company under delegated authority from the Board and to implement the policies and strategy set by the Board. In carrying out their responsibilities the CEO must report to the Board in a timely manner on those matters included in the Company's risk profile, all relevant operational matters and any other matter that is likely to have to fall within the Materiality Threshold. All reports to the Board must present a true and fair view of the Company's financial condition and operational results.

The CEO is also responsible for appointing, where appropriate, removing senior executives, including the chief financial officer and the company secretary, with the approval of the Board. The CEO is responsible for evaluating the performance of senior executives.

5.3 Responsibilities of Non-Executive and/or Independent Directors

The Board determines whether each of the non-executive directors of the Company is independent on a regular basis in accordance with its Policy on Assessing the Independence of Directors. The Board recognises the importance of the appropriate balance between independent and non-independent representation on the Board. In making this determination, the Board takes into account the skills and experience required, in the context of the Company's operations and activities.

The independent directors may meet without other directors present, if appropriate.

The non-executive directors may meet without senior management present at times scheduled from time to time. Such meetings may be facilitated by the Chairman, as appropriate.

Individual directors should devote the necessary time to the tasks entrusted to them. All directors should consider the number and nature of their directorships and calls on their time from other commitments.

Directors and officers of the Company should be aware of their legal obligations.

6. Materiality Threshold

The Board has agreed on the following guidelines for assessing the materiality of matters:

6.1 Materiality – Quantitative

Balance sheet items are material if they have a value of more than 10% of pro-forma net asset.

Profit and loss items are material if they will have an impact on the current year operating result of 10% or more.

6.2 Materiality – Qualitative

Items are also material if:

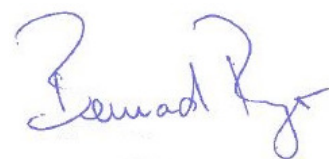

- they impact on the reputation of the Company;
- they involve a breach of legislation;
- they are outside the ordinary course of business;
- they could affect the Company's rights to its assets;
- if accumulated they would trigger the quantitative tests;
- they involve a contingent liability that would have a probable effect of 10% or more on balance sheet or profit and loss items; or
- they will have an effect on operations which is likely to result in an increase or decrease in net income or dividend distribution of more than 10%.

6.3 Material Contracts

Contracts will be considered material if:

- they are outside the ordinary course of business;
- they contain exceptionally onerous provisions in the opinion of the Board;
- they impact on income or distribution in excess of the quantitative tests;
- involve any director or executive management;
- they are over US$10 million in value
- there is a likelihood that either party will default, and the default may trigger any of the quantitative or qualitative tests;
- they are essential to the activities of the Company and cannot be replaced, or cannot be replaced without an increase in cost of such a quantum, triggering any of the quantitative tests;
- they contain or trigger change of control provisions;
- they are between or for the benefit of related parties; or
- they otherwise trigger the quantitative tests.

Any matter which falls within the above guidelines is a matter which triggers the materiality threshold ("Materiality Threshold").
